Prison plans resubmitted

But still no 'affordable' homes

by Trevor Bevins

DISTRICT councillors are being urged to stick to the authority's "affordable" homes policy when they meet to consider the future of the Dorchester Prison site.

Developers City and County have claimed they are unable to meet the 35 per cent target – backed up by an independent report which suggests they are right.

But Labour Party campaigners say it is crucial that they provide affordable homes for sale and rent which complies with council policies.

The meeting, on Thursday, will consider a re-worked application for 185 houses and apartments.

City and County have always argued that their development will meet the spirit of the affordable homes policy because many of new homes being created out of the old jail will be smaller and, as such, priced at the lower end of the local market.

BECKY Crabbe grew up in Lyme Regis and is now co-owner and director of renewable energy company Evergreen, alongside husband Ian.

They now live in Seaton, in East Devon, but with their offices in Lyme Regis they retain strong links with the town and say they are lucky to be bringing up their two young daughters in "such a fantastic part of the country".

● HOW did you come to be owner and director of Evergreen?

PRIOR to working at Evergreen I was a legal secretary at Bevis and Beckingsale Solicitors in Axminster.

I enjoyed working in the conveyancing department for 10 years before having my two gorgeous girls, now five and seven-years-old.

Whilst at home when the girls were young I started to get involved with the running of Evergreen with Ian, my husband. I have now been juggling the girls and the office for three years, life is busy and really enjoyable.

Evergreen is most definitely a family business, husband and wife living and working together!

● HOW has the business developed over the years?

THE business began as my husband's small electrical company and grew to become Evergreen in 2011, when we started carrying out solar PV installations as well as electrical work.

In 2014 we started our plumbing and heating services and extended our range of renewables to include heat pumps, solar thermal and biomass. We have had help on the way and we are grateful to those who have contributed to our success.

● WHAT services does the business offer?

WE OFFER a wide range of services including electrical, plumbing and heating, as well as the installation of renewable technologies such as solar PV, ground and air source heat pumps.

We also fit wood burners and flues and carry out bathroom refurbishments. We are NIC EIC registered electricians and MCS registered renewable installers.

● WHAT sets it apart from other renewable energy companies?

WE ARE a local, friendly, family-run company based in Lyme Regis.

We pride ourselves on taking time to advise and discuss which renewable technology is best suited to our customers and their property. We have a great team around us and couldn't do it without them!

60 SECOND INTERVIEW

● WHAT are the benefits of using renewable energy methods, such as solar PV?

MANY think that solar PV it is not worth considering now that the financial incentives have been reduced, but it is still a viable option.

You can still achieve rates of return of five to seven per cent, and the ability to generate your own free, clean, green power is very satisfying.

Energy price rises and the developments in battery storage make solar more relevant, not less. Currently we are fitting more ground source and air source heat pumps than solar PV.

This is partly due to the government backed RHI (Renewable Heat Incentive) which pays people for installing renewable technologies.

● WHAT do you enjoy doing in your spare time?

WITH mummy and daddy running a busy business our spare time is very precious to the family, we enjoy long walks on the beach/countryside with our six-month-old puppy Coco (you may have seen photos of her on our Evergreen Facebook page!).

You may also see us at the Lyme Regis Football Club supporting the 'Seasiders' on a Saturday afternoon.

Sundays are family time, cooking a big roast dinner, sometimes up to 10 of us, all generations together!

● WHAT do you like about living in the local area?

HAVING lived and grown up in Lyme Regis, I love the fact that the Evergreen office overlooks Golden Cap, you can never tire of that stunning view, no matter what the weather.

My family has lived and worked in Lyme Regis for many years. My maternal grandfather, Victor, was a painter and decorator and my paternal grandmother, Olive, ran the Harbour Café down at the Cobb for years.

Ian and I feel very lucky to be bringing our children up in such a fantastic part of the country.

Saxon Arms is Pub of the Year

PRESENTATION of West Dorset Pub of the Year to the Saxon Arms at Stratton

A POPULAR village pub, close to Dorchester, has been voted West Dorset CAMRA's Pub of the Year.

The Saxon Arms, Stratton was voted for the accolade by local beer lovers.

The village pub has been run by Rod and Janette Lamont for the past 11 years.

On hearing the news landlord Rod said: "Given the tough criteria to be recognised for this award we are absolutely delighted to receive this from such a highly respected organisation which makes our training and commitment to the business worthwhile."

"Huge thank you to our staff in helping us achieve this, were all chuffed to bits."

Though only built and opened in 2001 the Saxon's architecture harks back to traditional design; externally made from Flintstone and thatched, complemented inside by a large open plan relaxing drinking area with wooden beams and comfy seating, with a separate dining area to the rear.

CAMRA say that the bar has four cask ales plus a traditional cider with an excellent gin menu.

The pub is family and dog friendly and has a welcoming atmosphere to it be you a local or perhaps someone who has travelled for their renowned food menu. The pub is a regular in the CAMRA "Good Beer Guide" which reflects the pubs high beer quality control.

West Dorset CAMRA Chairman Dave Harris said: "Many of our CAMRA members provide feedback on the quality of the beers they drink in our pubs here in West Dorset. This year we have received more than 5,000 such "beer scores". We are delighted to be able to present our Pub of the Year award to the Saxon Arms, which has not only consistently delivered good beer but excellent service and atmosphere during the year."

Parking chaos in residential streets

RESIDENTS living on Dorchester's Clarence Road say that it is being turned into a one-way street because of workers parking on both sides of the road.

They say the problems became worse when Dorset County Council started charging its staff to park at county hall and fear it could become still worse when new charges are introduced for hospital parking in April.

Those who live in the road, and in adjoining Treves Road and Garfield Avenue, say problems in getting safely in and out of their drives has been made worse by builders' vans and a camper van which has started parking in the street to avoid town centre parking charges.

The police have been contacted, but say there is nothing they can do as the vehicles are taxed and insured and legally parked, despite being wider than cars, reducing the width of the road.

There have also been several incidents of poor parking where drivers have blocked, or partially blocked, drives.

Police say this is a civil issue, unless covered by specific highway orders.

Said one resident who did not want to be named but gave both his name and address to View from Dorchester: "This large van has been parked on these roads for many months, and when contacted via a handwritten request to move it, it moved a short distance away. It's currently on Clarence Road and, because of its width, contributes to a one-way situation, all too familiar to the many drivers who use this rat-run daily."

"I raised this with the police only the other week, but apart from identifying the owner, I have been told that, so long as it is taxed and insured, with a valid MOT, there is nothing that can be done."

The resident provided pictures of the van and a car parked across the drive of a local doctor's house, which made it impossible for him to leave by car.

"Even if he had managed to drive past the car in his

CAR partially blocking the drive of a Clarence Road resident way, the width of the van parked across the street would have required a five or six point turn to move up Clarence Road."

Meetings have been held, over the parking issue, with ward councillors, who suggest that residents wait for the next report on town centre congestion from Dorset County Council. There is currently no date for that report to be published.

"Currently there are many road works being undertaken to improve traffic flow, whereas the main problem is parking," said the Clarence Road resident.

♥ UNIONS Week event at Tolpuddle Martyrs' tree

WORKERS from across the South West gathered around the famous Martyrs' Tree in Tolpuddle to celebrate the contribution unions make to society.

Part of the TUC's ♥ UNIONS week, the event aimed to highlight the positive work carried out by reps in workplaces and in the wider community.

South West TUC Regional Secretary Nigel Costley said: "Tolpuddle is a spiritual home for trade unionists and the famous sycamore tree symbolises the right of working people to combine to seek justice at work and in society."

"There are half a million trade union members in the South West, reps helping working people every day. In workplaces all over the region they are making sure we're safe at work, protecting our jobs, pushing for higher pay and helping us get learning and training."

Call for councillors to stick to 'affordable' homes policy

Said Claudia Sorin, of Dorchester Labour: "The developer City and Country, who acquired the Dorchester prison as part of a job lot of four prisons, for £5million, claim that they are not going to make enough profit to meet the requirement to include some affordable homes for local people."

"Companies like City and Country insist on being able to make profits of at least 20 to 25 per cent and over-inflate the costs of the development in their viability assessments, then claim that the affordable housing is not viable for them. Unfortunately, the exact figures are kept secret from the public so we can't hold them or the council to account over this."

She accuses both Conservative and Liberal Democrat councillors locally as having a poor record on getting value for money for Dorchester residents on housing deals.

"They need to be tougher on developers," she said.

Barry Thompson, also of Dorchester Labour, added: "Two hundred residents objected to the original plan because of the lack of affordable housing and 700 people have signed Labour Party petitions on the issue. We would like to ask West Dorset District Council to make an amendment to the Local Plan, as some other councils have done, that says unless a developer is meeting the 35 per cent affordable rule, they have to publish their viability assessment in full."

The party is also urging residents to attend the planning meeting at South Walks House this Thursday, February 16th at 10am. They will be holding a demonstration outside the council offices before the meeting to protest at the council's poor record on providing affordable homes for local people and to raise public awareness.

Community grants for transport schemes

DORSET County Council is encouraging more people to set up DIY community transport schemes after slashing the public transport budget.

A whole series of new cuts will remove grants from many bus services in the summer. This follows on from cuts last year and the year before that.

Now the authority is launching a fresh push to persuade people to set up dial-a-ride services, volunteer car schemes and car-sharing.

It has available a community transport toolkit for communities to start up a transport scheme in their local area.

Around 350 toolkits have been distributed to local groups including all town and parish councils, libraries and Transport Action Groups (TAGs).

The county council is also offering match-funding community transport grants of up to £5,000 for charities, parish councils and community groups to help launch new services.

Since April 2016, 20 trial community transport schemes have been introduced across Dorset by a number of operators.

The initiatives follow the decision by the county council last February to reduce its subsidies for public bus services by £1.5million over two years, in the light of having to save £16million in 2016/2017. The council saved £500,000 in 2016/2017 by reducing funding for infrequent rural bus services and focusing on services used by the most people.

The council still needs to save a further £1million on public transport, as well as £850,000 on schools transport, in 2017/2018 to contribute its overall savings target of £18.3million.

County councillors will discuss and set the budget at their meeting the week on February 16th.

During September and October 2016, more than 2,600 people responded to a public consultation on changes to public and schools transport.

Councillor Peter Finney, Cabinet member for environment, highways and infrastructure, said: "With the financial challenges we face, the current model of subsidised transport in Dorset is unsustainable. We need to focus the available funding on those routes that carry the most people and do most to support our economy."

"We are working in partnership with communities to develop a thriving network of locally-owned transport links across Dorset. In time, we see this becoming integrated with a core number of town-to-town routes, commercially operated services and our own transport fleet to give people a more flexible range of travel options."

Further information about existing community transport schemes in Dorset and how to start your own can be found at www.dorsetforyou.gov.uk/community-transport

Council tax rise proposal

DORSET County Council's proposed increase for the next financial year is almost five per cent – adding £60 to the average household council tax bill.

Local residents will also have to factor in above-inflation increases being proposed by district, borough and town councils, the police and fire service.

The county council proposal, for a 4.99 per cent increase, has yet to be agreed by the full council, but with an overall Conservative majority, is likely to be approved.

If it is the county council's share of the council tax for a band D home would rise from £1,263 to £1,326.

Campaigners welcome housing supply reform

COUNTRYSIDE campaigners in Dorset have welcomed the Government's plans to reform the housing market and boost supply of new homes.

The Dorset Campaign to Protect Rural England (CPRE) says that at times it had feared that the Government's Housing White Paper would herald a new assault on the countryside and yet another round of developer-driven planning changes.

However, Chairman Richard Nichols said: "Dorset CPRE is hugely heartened that the paper promises continued protection of the Green Belt, support for more brownfield development, and to address the failures of the housing market as opposed to further meddling with the planning system – all fundamental issues CPRE has relentlessly banged the campaign drum on. There are also proposals to discourage developers from dragging their heels once they have the land and permissions needed to build."

But the organisation, while accepting there is a need for more affordable housing, says it does not accept the unduly high number, 73,000 houses currently required by central government to be built in Dorset. It believes that such a number amounts to at least 150,000 new residents and 100,000 more cars by 2033, as well as additional pressure of what it says is already an inadequate infrastructure, such as education and the NHS which is already struggling to fill vacancies.

"These staff shortages are largely caused by the high cost of property, now unaffordable for nurses and ancillary workers, arising from a lack of truly affordable housing available.

"If we are to protect the countryside and prevent urban sprawl, it is essential that housing targets are local, honest, realistic and deliverable. The outcome of this consultation represents the acid test of whether the Government is able to protect the countryside while meeting its aspiration for more house building."

The group says that it will support groups who want to fight against proposals for their communities which are seen as unsupportable.

Seafront toilet block is sold

■ A WEYMOUTH seafront toilet block, which has been closed since October, has been sold to a developer – subject to contract.

The ornate building, on the corner of Bond Street, also has a four-bedroom apartment above it, although it has not been used for more than ten years and is expected to cost £40,000 to bring it back into use.

When the borough council decided to sell the building it was said that suitable uses could include a small hotel, restaurant or bar.

It was put on the market with bidders asked to make offers above £250,000.

The council says it will provide temporary loos nearby on the seafront while a long-term solution is found.

Exports are booming for Dorset's businesses

NEW figures show Dorset Chamber of Commerce and Industry helped the county's firms export £163.5million worth of goods in 2016.

DCCI's International Trade Department processed some 11,133 transaction documents during the calendar year 2016 for firms selling abroad. Exports included racing pigeons to UAE; bath bombs to Ukraine, Mexico and South Africa; throat lozenges to Azerbaijan; caravan equipment and spare parts to Egypt; and custom wheelchairs for the Invictus Games in America.

The chamber, the county's leading business support organisation, continues to expand its International Trade Department with two new members of staff in 2016. Two more – an administrator and a coordinator – are being recruited.

Chief executive Ian Girling said: "Confidence among business in Dorset, including exporters, has rallied.

"Dorset firms supply an incredible array of products and services both to Europe and the wider world, helping to drive the local and national economy. As well as challenges, there will be exciting new opportunities from Brexit. DCCI will be encouraging and supporting experienced and new exporters to seize this chance to put themselves and the county on the new world map."

The top destination for exports from Dorset in 2016 was Saudi Arabia with 2,082 documents processed; followed by UAE with 1,551, Qatar with 869, Turkey with 762 and Kuwait with 615.

In terms of shipment values the highest destination totals were UAE with £38.6million, Turkey with £20.9million, South Korea with £16.4million, Egypt with £11.5million and Saudi Arabia with £8.5million.

Lifeboat and coastguard search for missing kite surfer

WEYMOUTH RNLI Inshore lifeboat was launched at 2.15pm on Monday, February 13th at the request of Solent Coastguard to carry out a search in Weymouth Bay for a kite surfer reported to be in difficulties.

A thorough search of the surf line from the Pavilion to Bowlease Cove and out to a distance of one mile and as far as Newtons Cove was carried out by the volunteer crew of the lifeboat.

Coastguard search teams checked the shoreline and the coastguard helicopter also joined in the search of the bay from the surf line out to a distance of one mile.

After a two hour search in the choppy waters and cold easterly wind with nothing found, all units were stood down.

The Inshore lifeboat returned to harbour at approx 4.15pm.

Marketing Weymouth's outdoor activities

WEYMOUTH is being promoted as an adventure sport and activity destination this year.

A team from Weymouth BID and local activity representatives will be promoting the area at the Outdoor Adventure & Camping Show this week at the ExCel London.

The Outdoor Adventure & Camping Show, which runs until February 19th, is the UK's largest outdoor show with over 50,000 visitors.

Nigel Reed, Manager of Weymouth BID, said: "Weymouth is the perfect destination for adventure sports and with the market expanding; this is the right time to promote the area. All the tourist trade reports nationally indicate the growing requirements for coastal resorts to diversify and provide a wider choice of activities particularly in niche markets with a higher spend."

"Representing Weymouth at national trade shows is a great way to get Weymouth on the map and in amongst bigger tourism organisations as well as delivering the BID's Business Plan".

Weymouth BID will also be hosting a new event called the "Big Dorset Outdoor Weekend on May 20th and 21st, the event will bring together a large number of outdoor activity and adventure events in South Dorset with a focus on Weymouth & Portland. Activities will include cycling, walking, sailing and a vast selection of water based activities.

Energy saving brings rewards at leisure centre

PORTLAND'S Osprey Leisure Centre has received an industry award for its energy saving efforts.

Since 2014 the centre has saved around £35,000 in energy costs each year.

The level of savings has now led to the centre being recognised by SPORTA UK who have awarded the centre the Exceptional Social Enterprise Improvement Award.

The Portland centre was built by the Royal Navy and although well-built was costly to run when it was taken over by the community.

Work started with a loan from the Carbon Trust which was repaid over a three year period from savings made during that time. New lighting technology, a pool cover and a replacement air handling unit all reduced consumption by approximately 25 per cent. The centre then teamed up with the company who installed the air handling to test some very new technology which was the first of its kind in the UK.

As a result of the changes the gas consumption at the leisure centre has dramatically reduced in the past 12 months.

General manager of Osprey Leisure Centre, Nigel Williams, said: "In the early days it was frightening how expensive the centre was to run with utility costs taking up over 20 per cent of all our income. The mission to reduce consumption has resulted in this now dropping to well under 10 per cent and this is without the benefits of any Renewable Heat Incentive repayments from the government which will almost make the centre self-sufficient in gas costs."

Close monitoring of the daily figures has shown that in the last five months Osprey Leisure Centre has experienced reduced consumption of gas by 89 per cent and electricity by two per cent.

Drink up for charity

REGULARS at Weymouth's Boot Inn have raised more than £150 for a cancer charity – by drinking beer.

Throughout January the pub donated 10p from every pint of Ringwood Best sold to the Cancer Research UK's Dryathlon, collecting a total of £153.

Over the past 12 months the pub and its customers have collected over £1,500 for a number of charities.

Getting in the swim

WELDMAR Hospicecare's first Charity Swimathon takes place this weekend at the Osprey Leisure Centre, Portland.

Teams of six swimmers will be taking to the water on Saturday, February 18th from 12.30pm until 2.30pm. The event has been sponsored by New Image Tiles.

Those wishing to take part will need to register all six members of a team at the same time (£60 in total). The aim if then to see how many lengths of the 25m pool can be swum in an hour.

Dorset Moods exhibition

AN exhibition of mainly Dorset photos by Gerry White has opened at the Aqua Hotel, Castletown, Portland.

The Dorset Moods display will remain open until the end of February and features the work of Gerry, 50, who is self-taught.

He is now a member of Portland Camera Club which he says has supported and helped him develop his techniques.

Last year his hard work paid off when he won the Bob Ellis cup as the overall photography winner at the Dorset County Show.

He was also voted Photographer of the Year by Portland Camera Club and won an internet competition.

The exhibition is open at the hotel café from 7.30am to 5pm throughout February.

Twinning links to remain strong despite EU Brexit

TWINNING between the French town of Louviers and Weymouth and Portland will continue – despite Brexit.

Borough Mayor Richard Kosier told the twinning society's annual meeting: "No matter what happens with Brexit and the European Union, it must not be allowed to interfere with the twinning with Louviers."

"It is important we all get to know each other's culture. Many people may ask why - in these times of change - should the tradition of town twinning continue? I believe it is an official relationship builder, encouraging people to meet, mix and get along. That's why town twinning - at its core - is a good and important activity."

The mayor, accompanied by mayoress Caroline Churchill, made his first visit to Louviers last September and was received by Louviers Mayor Francois-Xavier Priolau. The new Mayor of Weymouth & Portland, Councillor Kevin Brookes, will welcome the delegation from Louviers on Friday, June 2nd while the Weymouth delegation sets off for Louviers on August 30th.

Chairman Geoff McDonnell reported it had been a good year - financially and socially - for the society. £472 had been raised from the one day stall on the seafront, which has contributed to a healthy financial surplus on the year.

He thanked Mayor Richard Kosier for his support of the society, which organises the twinning link begun in 1958.

Mr McDonnell was re-elected Chairman, having been first elected last year. Other officers re-elected were Cath Irving and Ted Nicklin (vice chairmen), Pam Nicklin (general secretary), Michel Hooper-Immins (public relations officer), Alderman Peter and Ann Rendall (welfare secretaries), Janette Martindill (accommodation secretary) and Tom Martindill (membership secretary).

Mike Beecroft was re-elected to the committee. Bob Scott becomes the new treasurer, while Joyce Scott takes over as minutes secretary. Richard Prior was newly elected to the committee.

Councillor Richard Kosior, Mayor of Weymouth & Portland, continues as president, with the deputy mayor and the mayor of Portland as vice presidents. Aldermen Roy Gainey and Peter Rendall remain as life vice presidents.

The annual subscription is £10.

Enquiries about joining the Louviers Society should be directed to secretary Pam Nicklin at 01305 771773.

Councils ask minister to back unitary authorities proposal

THE Secretary of State for Local Government and Communities, Sajid Javid, has been formally requested to back a proposal by six of Dorset's nine councils for major structural change in the county.

Dorset's three upper tier councils – the councils that spend the greatest percentage of the county's local government money and represent every resident on the county, Dorset, Bournemouth and Poole – are supporting this proposal, along with North Dorset, West Dorset and Weymouth & Portland councils.

If agreed by the secretary of state, this proposal would mean Dorset's nine existing councils are disbanded and cease to exist.

The two new unitary councils that replace them would each deliver all local government services in their areas.

They would be structured around the natural established communities of urban and rural Dorset, with one covering Bournemouth, Poole and Christchurch, and the other one serving the residents of the rest of the county.

Councillor Robert Gould, leader of Dorset County Council, said: "This proposal is about being aspirational and ambitious for Dorset."

"It is a chance in a lifetime to make Dorset a more successful, healthy, vibrant and prosperous county, for everyone who lives here."

"Two councils working together would collaborate on key matters such as attracting investment and government money, infrastructure planning and land use – something that is impeded by the existence of nine separate councils currently, each with their own uncoordinated priorities."

Councillor Anthony Alford, leader of West Dorset District Council, said: "This change is not driven by a desire for greater power, to protect individual positions or preserve any specific council just for the sake of it."

"In fact, quite the opposite. As well as financial imperative, this proposal could deliver a prize that is far greater than any council can achieve in its current form."

"The opportunities to really transform how public services are delivered in the county is breath-taking, and the benefits this would have for local people equally inspiring."

This year's awards event was hosted by ITV news presenter Kylie Pentelow, with an opening address by travel journalist and Chair of Family Holiday Association Alison Rice.

Ms Rice was also this year's Chair of Judges and said: "Yet again the South West leads the way in tourism excellence. Whatever 2017 throws at this very special region of Britain, tonight's award winners will excel at what they do best - offering all comers the best possible visitor experiences."

Manager at Greenwood Grange, Zoe Belcher, said: "Our hopes were high for a win, but to actually take the trophy is an outstanding achievement and we are absolutely thrilled. This award is testament to the efforts and hard work of everyone at Greenwood

Marie Curie pancake race

WHAT could become an annual pancake race for Dorchester is being held in the Borough Gardens towards the end of February.

The cancer charity, Marie Curie, is organising the race on Shrove Tuesday, February 28th.

It will be started shortly after 4pm by the Mayor, Councillor Tim Harries, following the 'bedding in' of the new plaque for the Marie Curie Memory Garden.

This will officially kick off the Great Daffodil Appeal for the charity in Dorchester, which will continue throughout March.

Lapel daffodils will be available from many shops and businesses in the area, and from Lidl's on March 10th and 11th and in South Street on Saturday, March 25th.

Organiser and group chairman Richard Crosby is still asking for volunteers to collect for Marie Curie.

Potential volunteers can contact him on 07879 692369 or via email richard.crosby2@me.com

Entries to the pancake race are being co-ordinated by Mayoress Anita Harries. The event will be open to any age and is being held at 4pm to enable those of school age to get there.

It will start close to the Marie Curie Memory Garden, close to the Princes Street entrance, where 1,200 daffodils were planted last year in memory of the number of people who have been helped by Dorset Marie Curie nurses in the past year.

Eggs thrown at bus passenger

EGG throwing yobs have hurt a bus passenger waiting at a Weymouth Esplanade bus stop.

Police have appealed for witnesses to the incident which happened at the K4 stop at about 9.45pm on Thursday, February 7th.

They described the car as a dark coloured VW Golf containing three young people, one of them a woman with dark shoulder length hair, wearing a dark jacket.

Witnesses should contact the police on 101 or Crimestoppers on 0800 555 111 quoting incident number 55170019383.

Matt to kick-off fundraising challenge with shark swim

WELDMAR Hospicecare's Fundraising Manager, Matt Smith, will be swimming with sharks this week.

Matt is celebrating ten years of working for the charity by setting himself a number of challenges.

"Matt's Colossal 10" is a series of ten challenges, where he will face fears, physical demands, and experience adrenaline fuelled excitement. And he is looking for people to join him for each challenge.

His first challenge takes place this Saturday, February 18th, when he will be swimming with sharks at Weymouth Sealife Centre.

Said Matt: "In my ten years at Weldmar Hospicecare, I have seen the fantastic care that has been given to thousands of patients and their loved ones. In the past decade, the services available to the people of Dorset have evolved and become much more patient centred.

"Like so many people, my family have benefited from Weldmar. My aunt was cared for by the amazing staff both at home and within the hospice 17-years-ago. Her illness impacted the whole family; Weldmar weren't just there for her, but all of us too. I see each and every day what a difference the hospice makes to so many families, and how vital the services are that are provided across the county".

The challenges are swimming with sharks, abseiling down the Spinnaker Tower at Portsmouth, the London Marathon, Skydiving, Three Peaks Challenge, Wingwalking, the Borneo Jungle Trek, a one mile open water swim, cycling 175 miles between all the Weldmar charity shops and a 10 hour dance-a-thon.

Matt said: "Working in fundraising, I know just how important the continued support from our local community is. They ensure that Weldmar's services can be provided throughout Dorset. I have been extremely lucky to have worked with, and supported, so many people who have taken on challenges to raise money for Weldmar and, in my 10th year, it is now my time to step up to the mark. I hope that you will join me too, in helping to continue fund these services."

More information about all of the challenges can be found on Weldmar's website at www.weld-hospice.org.uk/colossal10.

You can sponsor Matt at www.justgiving.com/colossal10 where your donation will help Weldmar Hospicecare continue their services across Dorset.

Bus ticket price rise

FIRST Dorset has added 50p for return tickets to many bus routes in Weymouth, Portland and Dorchester.

The fare hike has affected routes between Dorchester and Weymouth, to and from Little-moor and the park and ride, and between Weymouth and Portland and Bridport and Weymouth.

The company has denied that the increase is directly linked to the long-running industrial dispute last year.

The increase means it will now be cheaper to take the train between Dorchester and Weymouth - £4.60 on the railway, compared to £5 on the bus and for four people sharing may be cheaper to take a taxi.

The cost of weekly and monthly saver passes have not been put up.

Pub conversion

A WEYMOUTH pub, The Waverley Arms, in Abbotshbury Road is to be converted into flats - despite a petition to save it which attracted hundreds of signatures.

Landlord of another local pub, Thomas de Brincat, from The Belvedere Inn wanted to purchase the Waverley and keep it running as a music venue.

West Dorset Campaign for Real Ale (CAMRA) backed his bid and started a petition calling for the pub to be saved. An application was also made to list the pub as an Asset of Community Value, which could have prevented the change of use - but this has now been turned down by the Borough Council.

CAMRA pubs spokesman Andy Redding said that just because The Waverley does not have a big following at the moment, given the chance, it could do so in the future.

Sessions to help drivers improve road safety

NEW sessions to help improve road safety for drivers over the age of 65 are being held in Weymouth.

They are designed to improve confidence and are being offered at the town's SafeWise centre in Radipole Lane.

The Dorset Driver Gold sessions offers both practical and theory sessions.

The theory sessions include judging speed and distance, negotiating roundabouts, traffic lights and junctions.

A session costs £10, is held for up to 20 people and lasts up to three hours including refreshments.

The practical sessions are held on a one-to-one basis using the driver's own car, last up to one and a half hours and costs £45.

The instructor looks at the way a driver deals with various traffic situations on the road and will make recommendations with the aim of enhancing current skills.

The next session takes place this on Monday, February 27th at 1.30pm with other sessions on March 22nd, April 18th and May 15th.

B&B neighbours' concerns over drug rehab centre plans

By Trevor Bevin

RESIDENTS living near a property in Abbotsbury Road, Weymouth, ear-marked for a drug and alcohol centre, were meeting last night (Tuesday, February 14th) to hear about the proposals.

Neighbouring B&B owners claim the conversion of the Abbotsbury Road property to a rehabilitation centre would impact their businesses.

The property, currently being used as a bed and breakfast, is being bought by Dorset County Council with the help of £620,000 from Public Health England.

If finally agreed it will be used to provide therapy rooms, space for group meetings and beds for up to six people to stay who up to a week for detox programmes or to access other forms of support.

It will be staffed around the clock by experienced professionals.

But despite reassurances some residents have used social media to protest that the facility will bring more crime to the area and add to parking congestion.

Owner of the neighbouring bed and breakfast, Warwick House, John Richards, said that while he understood the need for the unit he felt it should be located in an area away where it would have less impact on neighbours. He points out that both the town's foyer and probation bail hostel are accepted because of the areas they are located in are more suitable.

Some councillors have welcomed the proposal saying that not only will it benefit individuals trying to kick their drug and alcohol problems – but also the wider community.

Councillor Christine James, a former mayor, said: "By helping people recover from substance misuse this initiative will benefit not only the individuals who access the hub directly, but the wider community by helping make Weymouth a healthier and safer place.

"I know that a lot of work is going into making the facility a well-managed service that will be a credit to the borough."

Councillor Mike Byatt, Dorset County Council ward member for Weymouth Town, said: "I am delighted that we have secured such a significant amount of funding to support local people struggling with their use of alcohol or other drugs.

"This facility should be an excellent and positive community resource, offering a space for treatment services and other community organisations to work from, and reducing the cost to the public purse."

Subject to planning permission, local charity Essential Drugs and Alcohol Services (EDAS) will be managing the hub.

Drew Caldwell, Dorset manager for EDAS, added: "We're really pleased to have helped to secure this funding for Dorset, and Weymouth in particular. We've already worked closely with other organisations – including the police – to make sure this facility is in the right place and designed in the right way. That's why we've committed to staffing the hub 24 hours a day, seven days a week, once it's open.

"We're keen to involve the local community in the design and coordination process of the hub, so please get in touch with us if you have any thoughts or concerns."

On your marks, get set, go as 10k run launched

IT was on your marks, get set, run when organisers officially launched the fifth annual Weymouth Bay 10K race.

The launch, which was held at the Riviera Hotel, Bowleaze, was attended by key officials including main sponsors 3D Health and Fitness whose manager Oliver Levell said: "Supporting a running event as a health and fitness company is perfect and it also helps raise the profile of the area."

Race director Mark Caswell said the popular MCC Promotions 10K Run Series will be coming to Weymouth on Sunday, March 19th from 10am.

He added: "Runners will register at the Riviera before setting out on the run which starts at Bowleaze Green and continues on to the Pleasure Pier before finishing at Overcombe Corner."

"The course is scenic and flat, ideal for runners looking for a personal best, and we hope everyone puts their best foot forward in aid of this year's nominated charity which is the Lexi May Trust. They help fund memorable days out for Dorset families who have a child with a terminal or life limiting illness."

■ LAUNCHING the run

Mr Caswell said on-the-day registration will cost £13 which includes a t-shirt and a race medal.

He added: "Our chosen charity, the Lexi May Trust, is a very worthy cause and we hope to raise a lot of money for them. We are expecting around 300 runners to take part and everyone is hoping for fine weather."

Trust spokesman Carly Hopkin said: "We are a new charity and it is a great honour to be selected as the chosen charity for the Weymouth Bay 10K charity fun run."

"There are 400 Dorset children registered with terminal or life limiting illnesses and we want to help them all. To do that we need as much fundraising to help us as possible and the 10K race will be a big help."

"The trust has been set up in memory of our daughter, Lexi, who died in January 2016 from a brain tumour."

"We hope the trust will help families in similar situations to the one my husband, Michael, and I found ourselves in. We have already helped a dozen families to create their special day."

"We hope to arrange special days out to help such families and we would welcome all the help we can get."

ADVERTISER'S ANNOUNCEMENT

■ THE Kitchencraft team

Kitchencraft celebrates 30th anniversary

WEYMOUTH based Kitchencraft is one of Dorset's most well respected Kitchen and bathroom companies.

Brian Cookson took over the company in 1990 and now, having reached its 30th Anniversary, the company will become an "employee owned" business.

The day to day operations of the business will be handed over to the existing management team, who will own a proportion of the shares, whilst the remainder of the employees will own the majority of the shares, which will be held in trust.

The business model will be a similar arrangement to John Lewis.

The new Managing Director will be Pauline Hicks and Mr Cookson will be taking a diminishing role with the eventual aim of retirement from the business.

Mr Cookson said: "Over the years kitchen styles have come in and out of fashion. During the 1980s a country kitchen with rafters in the ceiling was a very popular choice with clients of all ages, but as Kitchencraft approached the Millennium years, new trends such as high gloss, dark wood, shaker style kitchens and high tech appliances dominated the kitchen scene."

"Throughout the 30 years Kitchencraft have kept close to their customers' needs and dreams. Experience really does matter at Kitchencraft and I have been very proud to be a part of it for the past 30 years."

QUARTERLY BUSINESS NEWS FROM WEST DORSET

BUY NOW, REGRET LATER

by Vicky Shaw, Press Association

THE January sales are over for another year - and while some people may be proudly showing off their new-found bargains, others could be counting the cost of "buyer's regret".

Shoppers typically over-spent £78 on items over the festive period, research from Santander suggests.

Walking to work, cancelling gym subscriptions and spending less on going out are just some of the ways people say they're cutting back.

A fifth (21%) of those surveyed say they will even cut back on festive spending in 2017 as a result of the amount spent over the Christmas just gone.

For some, the temptation to grab a bargain can have much more serious consequences.

Research from the Money and Mental Health Policy Institute, a charity founded by consumer champion Martin Lewis, has highlighted people's difficult relationships with online sales.

It found nearly two-thirds (63%) of people who have made purchases they later regret do so because of sales. Nearly one in 10 (9%) say they always, or often, regret purchases they make online.

The speed and convenience of online shopping with a simple click of the "buy" button can be hard to resist.

Polly Mackenzie, director of the Money and Mental Health Policy Institute, says increased spending can also be a symptom of a number of mental health problems.

This type of spending isn't driven by people being "greedy", she says, but by their emotions - such as boredom, depression or loneliness.

The Institute found around half (48%) of people living with mental health problems say they make purchases they regret when they're alone. Just over half (52%) do so when they are feeling low and nearly a third (31%) do so while shopping at night.

Many people also struggle to return goods they regret buying, with three-quarters (75%) of people saying they didn't return the last online purchase they regretted.

While returning items may be one way to get your finances back on track, more than a quarter (28%) of those with mental health problems didn't return their last regretted online purchase because they felt too ashamed.

The Money and Mental Health Policy Institute has launched a free, experimental tool to help people control their spending.

The "shopper stopper" allows shoppers to set the opening hours of online stores, enabling them to block access at times they find purchases particularly hard to resist, such as the middle of the night.

Lewis says: "Many people shop to make themselves feel better in periods of depression, to give things to others or feel needed, or to fill the time when they're bored or lonely."

"But the boost it gives is transitory, while the financial pain it can cause lingers on and on."

More details about the shopper stopper tool can be found at www.shopperstopper.co.uk

• And if the goods you've bought in the sales turn out to be faulty, consumer group Which? has an online tool to help at www.which.co.uk/consumer-rights/advice/what-do-i-do-if-i-have-a-faulty-product.

The tool can be used to automatically generate a letter to send to the retailer requesting a refund, replacement or repair, where appropriate.

Vickie Sheriff, director of campaigns and communications at Which? says: "If you've bought or been given a dud, it's vital that you know your rights and act fast if something is not right."

Here are some general tips from Which? for those who have bought faulty products:

• You have the right to reject and return your item and get a refund within 30 days of purchase.

• You could ask the retailer to repair or replace your item within six months of purchase.

• Your rights against the retailer can last for up to six years, but you would need to prove a fault was present at the time of purchase after the first six months.

P&L Accounts

DID you know the way you submit your tax return to HM Revenue and Customs is changing?

The Government has announced that from next year nearly every self-employed, partnership and landlord taxpayer will need to keep their records digitally and submit quarterly accounts online to HM Revenue and Customs. This change will also apply to all limited companies from April 2020.

This is going to be one of the biggest shake ups of the tax system for a generation. Currently over 11 million tax returns are issued every year with 43% received in the final month before the deadline, this is going to have to change.

We recommend that businesses and landlords get organised now, so that when the April 2018 commencement date arrives you are ready for the change and can seamlessly meet your new obligations.

P&L Accounts are a leading online accountancy practice, this means we are ideally placed to help our clients in the lead up to the change and beyond. It also means that as well as being prepared for the future changes imposed on you, we can deliver a greater level of service than a traditional accountancy practice, all based on our fixed fee service.

■ A MORNING of Under Sea Fun is taking place at the Dorset County Museum's Craft Academy today (Wednesday, February 15th), during half term.

The event, from 10.30am to 12.30pm, takes its theme from the current museum exhibition 'Nautilus: Beautiful Survivor – 500 million years of evolutionary history' based on the book by Wolfgang Grolke in the Victorian Hall.

Children will have a chance to learn and create creatures that live in the sea and their environment.

The event is free thanks to sponsorship from Battens Solicitors.

Future Craft Academy sessions are planned at the museum on Wednesdays on April 12th, April 19th, May 31st and August 2nd.

We need affordable homes not retail units

■ ON Tuesday I attended the Executive Meeting of WDDC where it was announced that another £520k of public money was being allocated to a feasibility study for Charles Street, but now enlarged to include Trinity Street and Fairfield car park.

The Charles Street redevelopment has now been going on for 30 years plus? Except for the "Titanic" council offices and new library, it's still not fully developed.

Alistair Chisholm has suggested, when the archaeology dig is complete, we could have a small tourist area showing off Dorchester's Roman history. Good idea! But what about the rest? Maybe relocate Waitrose or a similar store, but do we need more retail units?

Just look around the town (you don't need £520k to see). There are empty units in Brewery Square and the Tudor and Hardy Arcades have empty units. Also there are empty units at Antelope Walk and empty properties in South Street.

It's ironic that in WDDC's performance review it states WDDC will miss its 100 target of affordable homes for 2016-2017. It is projected to complete 80. But in the report there is no mention of housing.

WDDC could disappear in a couple of years to be replaced by a unitary council. What a legacy WDDC could leave if they built affordable housing in the site, for the young and mature citizens of Dorchester.

Colourful fundraising

■ LAST year's Colour Run

THE Weldmar Colour Run, one of Weymouth's biggest fundraising events, is returning in May this year - and will be followed the next day by a new event, the Weldmar Bubble Rush.

Between them, these events are expected to bring together more than 4,000 supporters to Lodmoor Country Park.

Weldmar's third Colour Run will be held on Saturday, May 6th with 2,000 people running through a number of colour stations over a 4km course, being covered in brightly coloured powder paint as they pass through.

The next day there will be a brand new event to Dorset, when Weldmar introduces the Bubble Rush on Sunday 7th. In this event, participants will pass through various bubble stations as they run their way through a corridor of brightly coloured foam.

The Bubble Rush also has the capacity for 2,000 participants and organisers believe both events are going to sell out. Both events are being sponsored and supported by Meyers Estate Agents.

Matt Smith, Weldmar's Event Manager said: "The response to both events has already been fantastic. Our first wave for the Bubble Rush is now full - so we are now accepting registrations for the next wave at 12.15pm. The Colour Run is now a staple event in Weymouth and we are incredibly pleased to be offered this again in 2017. We are also still accepting registrations for this and, if people book quickly, they can run at a discounted rate for a limited time only."

As well as the main events, Weldmar will be providing a weekend of family fun at Lodmoor Country Park. There will be live music throughout the two days, along with Dorset food and drink on sale, and fun for children of all ages.

Mr Smith added: "The response to both of these events is already fantastic and we advise that people register early to avoid missing out. The Colour Run has sold out each year we have held it and we believe that this year will be no different."

All the money raised from the 2017 Colour Run and Bubble Rush will go towards funding the continuation of the care and support that Weldmar provides to patients and their loved ones throughout Dorset.

Weldmar needs to raise £10,240 every single day of the year to provide its care for free to patients and their families.

So far Weldmar's Colour Runs have raised more than £160,000 in the past two years.

For more information or to register for the Colour Run or Bubble Rush visit www.weld-hospice.org.uk/register

Have your say on Local Plan review

A SERIES of public meetings are being held across West Dorset, Weymouth and Portland as a review of the Local Plan gets underway.

The plan sets out where and how many local homes and businesses are needed for the area.

It also looks at how the environment can be protected and how future developments can be made more sustainable.

Both West Dorset and Weymouth and Portland councils are reviewing the Local Plan and would like to know what residents across the area think about the proposals, or to make proposals of their own.

Drop-in sessions which will be attended by planning officers are being held across the region from next week until March.

The first of the local sessions is being held at the Redlands Sports Centre, Weymouth on Tuesday, February 21st from 10am to 7pm.

Others follow at St George's Centre, Portland on Thursday 23rd also from 10am to 7pm; Charminster Village Hall on Friday 24th at the same times; the district council offices at South Walks House, Dorchester on Monday 27th; Beaminster Town Hall on Tuesday 28th; Woodmead Hall, Lyme Regis on Wednesday, March 1st; Bridport Leisure Centre on Thursday 2nd; Crossways Village Hall on Tuesday 7th and at the Willowbed Hall, Chickereil on Thursday, March 9th, which will only be open until 5.30pm. All the other sessions run from 10am until 7pm.

The consultation runs until Monday, April 3rd.

Copies of the Local Plan Review Issues and Options will be available at council offices and at local libraries.

Cancer Appeal benefits from legacy

A LEGACY donation has added £100,000 to the Dorset County Hospital cancer appeal.

The money comes from the late Lawrence Werth.

It brings the hospital's cancer appeal to £960,000 – over the half-way mark.

Mr Werth, a Dorchester resident, had no relatives in the UK when he died and left his inheritance in a trust fund for cancer charities.

He died last year, aged 57, as a result of skin cancer.

The new cancer unit, once completed, will mean cancer patients from the area will no longer have to travel to Poole for radiotherapy.

A hospital spokesman said the new unit will not only save travelling but also give patients the dignity they deserve.

Women's health issues top internet searches

by Abi Jackson, Press Association

OF all the health queries we chuck at Dr Google, women's health issues top the list.

In fact, things relating just to women are Googled more often in the UK than very common ailments like coughs, colds and rashes (endometriosis - a condition, believed to affect one in 10 women, where endometrial tissue, the inner womb lining, also grows outside the womb, is among the most-searched health term, with around 90,500 searches a month).

It's something leading UK gynaecologist Dr Karen Morton, and her team at the Dr Morton's medical helpline, is hoping to address.

One of a handful of private digital GP practices that have cropped up over the last couple of years, offering people the chance to gain quick, convenient access to doctors via phone or email consultations (some services even do video link-ups, though Dr Morton's doesn't currently), she says it was "always my intention" the helpline would eventually "have an emphasis on women's health".

"We wanted to get the general practice service sorted first, and then really claim the women's health space, because I'm passionate about empowering women to get on with their lives," explains Dr Morton, who has 25 years' experience working across both the NHS and private sector.

MEETING DEMAND: The growth of online private services may not only play a role in helping relieve the burden on the NHS, and offer greater convenience to people who'd rather pay for an appointment if it means they don't have to wait for weeks and clear space in their diary to get there - but in terms of women's health, the benefits might go even further.

The Google stats, Dr Morton points out, are evidence that lots of women have unanswered questions about their health. While they're significantly more likely to go and see their GP than men (70% of all GP appointments are for women), females are also famous 'putter-uppers', and often don't want to make a fuss.

And gynaecology is a field where there are many things that while not medically serious, can have a tremendous impact on somebody's life (menopause symptoms, problematic periods...), and can cause immense worry if somebody doesn't really understand what's going on, especially, for example, if women are concerned about their future fertility, or cancer.

GOOD TO TALK: An obvious criticism of paid-for internet GP services is that talking to a patient over the phone can never fully match seeing them in the flesh. As well as physical examinations being impossible, somebody's physical appearance mood, for instance, might reveal potentially relevant insights. Dr Morton is well aware of this fact, but is confident the benefits outweigh any cons.

Of the 13 or so patients she saw in her gynae clinic this morning, for example, at least a few of them had problems they'd been "fobbed off" with by their GP.

"I'm not knocking GPs, the GP brief is far too big, [but] they can't possibly be experts in specialist fields and gynaecology, in some regards, is a specialist field," she says. "Some things GPs are dealing with a lot, but one lady, for example, had had painful sex, and she'd been fobbed off with lubricants and creams and this, that and the other, or was it all in her head, and no it wasn't - she's got a physical vaginal split, which I can easily remedy for her and her life will be transformed.

"Of course, I can't do the operation over the phone, but I can advise her really clearly on what to do next."

EMPOWERING WOMEN: In many ways, this is the crux of what Dr Morton's helpline is offering women - knowing they're paying for an expert's time, and they can ask all their questions and raise all of their concerns (there's no time limit on phone calls - they last as long as the customers need).

Something like urinary incontinence - which affects a significant number of women to varying degrees - might be a good example. "A lot of people feel they're wasting GPs' time, because they leak urine when they cough, sneeze and jump, and they think, 'Is this bad enough for me to go and speak to my GP about, because they're so busy?' And that's a tragedy, really, because we only get one life," says Dr Morton.

"And there are lots of things with women where confidence becomes zapped because of leakage or something like that, or because they're having such dreadful hot flushes in the workplace, and so their confidence deteriorates."

Where physical examinations, or scans and tests, are deemed necessary, referrals can be issued for customers with health insurance, and for those without, Dr Morton explains they will write a letter for the person to take to their GP, so they can request an NHS referral.

"Hopefully we will have empowered them [to go and have that conversation with their GP]," says Dr Morton.

"Empowerment is a really big word in our service," she adds.

"It means a great deal to get a bit of reassurance from an expert viewpoint, just to help people really understand their health, what questions to ask next and what their options are."

And for those who feel they just have to "put up" with something, there might be surprisingly simple - but life-changing - solutions, if only somebody had the chance to properly talk it through. Even when there really isn't much that can be done, just "understanding it more" could bring psychological relief.

"Knowledge," says Dr Morton, "is power".

• Dr Morton's gynaecologists are available between 7pm-11pm Monday to Friday, and 11am-3pm on weekends. Phone consultations, £50; email consultations, £25. For more information, visit www.drmortons.co.uk.

A brand-new era for Bestival at new Lulworth home

BESTIVAL, based on the Isle of Wight for the past decade, has been given the green light for a move to its new home at the Lulworth Castle estate – the home of sister festival Camp Bestival.

It's a brand-new era, so prepare for the truly immersive experience of Bestival 2017.

Announcing four incredible headliners and a huge bill of amazing music, we are entering a new chapter of light and sound, exploring the wonders of Colour on our mission to increase the peace this September 7th – 10th at the Lulworth Estate, Dorset.

Rob da Bank says: "Well what an adventure this promises to be... we have a beautiful new home with a massive castle in the middle of it, acres of beautiful woodland and forest, a sea view and the dramatic Jurassic coastline. Going back to our roots with Josie da Bank's hand-drawn artwork, reviving all our favourite stages from 14 years of Bestival history and going out with all our headliners for the first time ever together, we're pretty excited at Bestival HQ. From pop to grime, hip-hop to techno, folk to classical and every style in between we are reclaiming our place as the funnest, most adventurous, musically savvy and downright magical festival on the map. Please come along for the ride and remember Increase the Peace".

The xx will be the first ever Castle Stage headliners at Bestival! Never anything less than breath-taking, there may not be a more fitting band to get the main stage action underway in our new home.

Commenting on their headline performance, The xx said: "Bestival was one of the first festivals we played, back in 2010, and it had always been a dream for us...we even begged to play the previous year. In 2012 we returned to play the main stage and we're so happy to say we'll be headlining this year, at the new site in Dorset. The Isle of Wight will hold a special place in our hearts but we're excited to bring our new show to their new home".

Guaranteed to be momentous, hip-hop heroes A Tribe Called Quest will headline Saturday at Bestival 2017, performing what will be their last UK Show.

Bringing the debut mainland Bestival to a suitably triumphant close, organisers are completely over the moon to announce synth-pop geniuses Pet Shop Boys as Sunday night headliners. Quite simply legends, we think they're the perfect band to bring some mind-blowing colour to our first Lulworth Estate finale!

Commenting on their headline show, Pet Shop Boys said: "Amazingly it is over ten years since we last played Bestival but we remember it being one of the most enjoyable festivals ever. Looking forward to bringing our new show there this year – and seeing how the audience has decided to dress up!"

And completing 2017's fantastic foursome of first-time headliners organisers are delighted to announce Wimbledon's finest, Jamie T will be the man kicking it all off with an exclusive performance topping the Thursday night bill on second stage, The Box.

There'll also be mind-blowing live music from super suave Gallic funksters Justice, plus Dizzee Rascal, DJ Shadow, Little Dragon, Danny Brown, Rag'n'Bone Man, Laura Mvula, Soul II Soul, MNEK, Circa Waves, Ray BLK, Lucy Rose, and Charlotte Church's Late Night Pop Dungeon among many, many others.

And there will be DJ sets from Annie Mac, Andy C presents 25 Years of RAM, Kurupt FM, David Rodigan presents RAM JAM, DJ Yoda, Maceo Plex, Jackmaster, Kölsch, Dusky, Toddla T presents Carnival, Artwork presents Art's House, Sink the Pink and loads more to boot. Check the line-up so far listing at the end of this press release for even more names playing across the weekend.

Redrawing the favourite party in the spirit of its original pioneering vision, Bestival's creative essence will explode before your very eyes with a cavalcade of brilliant new stages, incredible destinations and stone cold classics, including our brand new main stage The Castle Stage, the eclectic wonders of The Box, the hands in the air nirvana of Temple, Bestival's heart and soul, Bollywood, and the righteous vibrations of Reggae Roots.

Back by very popular demand HMS Bestival is the last word in off the hook partying, plus you can dance like there's no tomorrow in new venues The Frozen Mole and Stacey's, delve into the vintage madness of Caravanserai, and Club DaDa, and kick back in the enchanting Ambient Forest, and at our steam punk vision, Oberon's Observatory.

Bestival 2017 is a whole new world to explore and to keep you on your toes we'll also have the dazzling delights of The World's Biggest Confetti Canon, Castle Fireworks Finale, the Love-Bot, The World's Biggest Bouncy Castle, Bestival Inflat-able Church, Confetti Wedding Disco, The Feast Collective, Slow Motion, Revolution Rides, Carnival Day Parade and Night Parades, the Sugar Skulls Cocktail Bus, Sunday Best Cardboard Record Shop, Lost in the Woods, Ancient Woodlands, Free Haircuts, Campsite Recycling Hubs, Kids' Field and for all you vexillophiles out there, Flags by Angus Watt.

Celebrating the move to our new home at the Lulworth Estate, we are offering a couple of special one-off ticket deals. For the next 48-hours only (that's from 7.30am Thursday 9th February to 7am Saturday 11th February) you can grab your Bestival weekend ticket for £150 (plus booking fee), or £190 (plus booking fee) if you want to throw in coach travel from Birmingham, Brighton, Bristol, Cardiff, London, Newport (IOW), Oxford, Portsmouth, Reading, Ryde or Southampton. # The Poetry of Plays

IN THE first joint fundraiser between Dorchester Arts and Dorchester Community Plays Association (DCPA) playwrights Stephanie Dale and David Edgar will demonstrate how drama shares many of the elements and structures of poetry.

Illustrating the evening, local actors will read from classical, contemporary and community plays. David and Stephanie will show how these plays use similar techniques to poetry to communicate meaning, such as drawing unexpected connections between different elements. The evening will be followed by a Q&A session with the authors and actors.

Rowan Seymour of DCPA commented that "this is the first joint fundraiser between Dorchester Arts and the DCPA and we are very excited at the prospect of hearing some of this country's leading playwrights talking about the approaches used to write great plays."

Stephanie Dale writes for stage, radio and large-scale theatre and is currently writing Spinning the Moon, the seventh Dorchester Community Play. She has also written numerous Afternoon Dramas for BBC Radio Four.

David Edgar is one of Britain's leading playwrights who has written extensively for The National Theatre, The Royal Shakespeare Theatre and many others. His best-known work includes a multi-award winning adaptation of Charles Dickens's Nicholas Nickleby.

The Poetry of Plays comes to Dorchester Corn Exchange on Friday, February 17th at 8pm.

Tickets are £10 and are available from the Dorchester Arts box office on 01305 266926, in person at the Corn Exchange (weekdays 10am - 4pm) or via www.dorchesterarts.org.uk.

ON THE SHOWBIZ BEAT

Local talents come good on the big stage

I GET to see lots of local theatre and I'm often blown away by the wealth of talent in the area.

We have a number of former professionals, who now grace the amateur stages around here, bringing a fantastic quality to our community shows, including the fabulous Amy Wheatley, who starred in Bridport Pantomime Players' Red Riding Hood just a couple of weeks ago and the fabulous Nicola Kathrens, who wowed audiences with her performance in Lyme's Tempest last summer.

There are also a few who I believe are good enough to cut it in the professional world including the indomitable Tracey Wakeling who will soon be appearing in Thoroughly Modern Millie at the Marine Theatre, Exmouth's Lance Vernon, who has got to be one of the best leading men in the area and Kelly Apps, whose portrayal of Eva Peron in Lyme Regis Musical Theatre's Evita has become the stuff of local legend.

Some do make the leap to the professional stage and it's always fantastic when my two worlds collide and I'm able to see friends in big shows in London and further afield.

Bridport's tap dancing sensation, Harry Poole is currently training at the Stella Mann College in London, former Woodroffe student, Celia Cruwys-Finnigan is touring the UK in the fantastic jukebox musical Buddy, and Perry Meadowcroft from Exmouth is set to make his West End debut in the Spring.

Alec Porter from North Bovey, was critically acclaimed last summer for his role in the musical Crime and Punishment - A Rock Musical, with music by Toyah Wilcox and after breaking both his ankles, is looking forward to getting back to the stage. Robbie Waugh from Axminster is working for Celebrity Cruises and travelling around the Caribbean performing popular musicals to lucky guests onboard ship.

And then there's Lyme Regis' Luke Street, who after performing in the highly acclaimed West End production of Gypsy with Imelda Staunton is now set to take the lead himself in the international tour of a smash hit musical.

I'm not allowed to reveal which one quite yet, so keep your eyes peeled for details.

I've been lucky enough to perform with many of these excellent young actors and I'm afraid they may have learned some unsavoury habits from me, as I'm notoriously badly behaved backstage.

I'd like to think I could always see their potential, but also the drive it takes to make it on the professional stage. The appetite for success is a big part of the business, as even the most well known actors will spend much of their careers out of work.

I've interviewed lots of stars and many of them talk frankly about the lack of work. I asked Maureen Lipman last year about what had enticed her back to pantomime at Christmas and she told me it was the guaranteed work and money that had ultimately made up her mind.

I also once asked Ruthie Henshall if she had any tips for youngsters starting out in the business and her reply was, "You've got to love it. You'll spend a lot of time out of work and you will spend a lot of time doubting yourself, because part of our job is rejection."

"You've got to eat, sleep, breathe it and love it, because otherwise you won't last long."

It's a tough business, but one of the greatest jobs in the world and amateur theatre can act as a good grounding for those who would like to take up the profession.

For us mere mortals we have to be happy with just the joy of performing and it is such a joy. There's nothing quite like putting on a ridiculous costume and pretending to be someone else for a couple of hours.

There are an abundance of groups to choose from in the area and if you would like to have a go, most of them have their own websites and social media accounts, so are easy to find.

I've just arrived in Australia for a few days, so I'm off to see Aladdin at the Capital Theatre in Sydney next week as well as a highly acclaimed production of the Testament of Mary by Sydney Theatre Company.

I'll probably have a little mooch around the Opera House while I'm here too!

Theatre and Cake?

ARE YOU a fan of quirky theatre or cake? Bridport Arts Centre is staging a theatre piece that explores advertising, brand identity and consumer choice, inspired by David Foster Wallace's short story Mister Squishy.

The show is an absurd comedy with a dark heart, it looks at the absurdity of life and consumer culture with humanity and humour. It is dark, unsettling and playful portrait of an ordinary man caught up in the modern world.

TOOT have a distinctive style of interactive performance, that provokes audiences to consider whether a real connection is possible a the click of a button.

They invite you to sit back, eat (individually wrapped, luxury) cake, and see a man gradually relinquish the delusion that he matters in the slightest.... And then go back to watching kitten videos on Facebook.

Bridport Arts Centre's Programme Manager, Gemma Al-

dred said "For people not familiar with the Mr Squishy books, expect a dark and absurd exploration of modern life, loneliness and market research! You really don't want to miss out on this show ... Oh and there's cake!"

Focus Group will be performed at Bridport Arts Centre on Saturday, February 18th at 8pm. Tickets are £12 or £10, available by calling 01308 424204 or online at www.bridport-arts.com

It's a positive start for new antiques fair

CHOOSING Axminster Guildhall proved to be a good decision for Meadow Fairs.

Having previously staged antiques, collectables and decorative fairs outside of Devon, the company decided to try Axminster.

The first fair was held on Saturday, January 28th and organiser Nigel Hole said he was very pleased. He had 24 stall holders and up to 300 visitors.

Mr Hole said: "We know the hall in Axminster, so thought we'd give it a go.

"We are very pleased. The number of visitors was more than expected, it being the first one and the roadworks."

At the time of the fair, West Street was one-way and Mr Hole said: "Some got confused by the roadworks, but they got there in the end.

"We are already getting bookings, not only for March but for May and October too.

"We are looking forward to the next one when we hope to redesign it, and possibly use the stage as well, to get more stalls in."

The fair will return on March 4th, May 20th and October 7th.

JEREMY Smith, Partner at Symonds & Sampson in Beaminster is seen here welcoming here his latest recruit Liz Richards who has recently joined the staff in Beaminster. Jeremy commented "we are extremely pleased to welcome Liz aboard. She has recently moved into Beaminster and has had historically a wealth of estate agency experience working for a number of well-known and highly respected estate agency business". There is no doubt that these levels of experience will prove to be invaluable to our many vendors and applicants alike.

Once the opportunity became available to join the company it was a simple decision to make. I must say whenever I drive around Beaminster and the local area all I see are Symonds & Sampson sold boards and I hope very much that I can quickly add to the collection!"

Jeremy concluded "we have had a fantastic start to 2017 selling numerous properties and now require homes in Beaminster, the surrounding villages and Crewkerne to sell to waiting buyers. ## 5 TIPS FOR SMALL ROOMS

By Julia Gray, Press Association

1. In small bedrooms, storage is all-important. Fitted wardrobes provide floor-to-ceiling storage and are most useful if built in what might otherwise be wasted space, such as the alcoves next to a chimney breast. Fitted wardrobes aren't expensive if you make them out of MDF (or get a carpenter to), and can be customised for your storage needs. A bed with built-in storage may also be a good investment.

2. To make a small bathroom work well, think about re-jigging the layout - would there be more space with a corner toilet, shower cubicle or basin, for example? Also consider the depth of the toilet - some are a lot shorter than others, giving you more useable floor space. If you don't use the bath, could you save space by replacing it with a shower cubicle? This may put off some buyers when you come to sell, but may be worth it if it improves the bathroom for you. If you want to keep the bath, there may be a better bath for the room, such as a shorter, narrower or tapered one.

3. Fitting everything in a small kitchen can be a challenge. Consider moving the washing machine to the bathroom or under-stairs cupboard, for example, and fitting smaller appliances, such as a two-burner hob. Clever kitchen designs make more of limited space - try a pullout worktop and wall-hung table that folds down. Tall wall units, if the ceiling's high enough, give you more storage by using otherwise wasted space.

4. A small boiler will free up space. Dated properties often have a big, floor-standing boiler with a hot-water cylinder, plus tanks in the loft. In smaller properties, this takes up valuable space and is unnecessary because a combi boiler (no cylinder or tank needed) will usually suffice (ask a heating engineer if in doubt), some combis are especially compact.

5. In some rooms, it's hard to find wall space for a radiator without putting furniture in front of it, which is pointless. Solve the problem with slimline vertical radiators - they're ideal when wall space is limited and are handy for drying big things like sheets. Most vertical radiators are only one or two columns deep, which limits the heat output. As well as being a practical solution for small rooms, these radiators are the perfect combination of period elegance and contemporary style, and a nice feature in their own right.

Mitsubishi Motors names new SUV "Eclipse Cross"

MITSUBISHI Motors Corporation has named its all-new SUV "Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross".

As befits its sharp, coupé-like contours, the Eclipse Cross name references the Eclipse sports car which amassed more than 1.4 million sales, mainly in North America between 1989 and 2012, while also referring to the cross-functional SUV nature of this new car. The Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross will line up alongside the Mitsubishi ASX and Mitsubishi Outlander to broaden the brand's model range and introduce a whole new audience to Mitsubishi Motors, a name long associated with stylish, reliable and capable SUVs and 4X4s.

The Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross will debut at the Geneva Motor Show (Hall 2, Stand 2130) on March 7 2017, finished in a deep gloss red metallic, a new colour specially developed for this new model using an innovative painting process.

Customers interested in the new Mitsubishi Eclipse Cross can go to the following link for updates: www.mitsubishi-cars.co.uk/eclipse-cross/

Details of the current model range and previous concept cars are available to download from www.mitsubishi-media.co.uk

McKechnie triple keeps Blues in race

Leamington 5 Dorchester Town 0

Evo-Stik South Premier - att: 405

SINCE being thumped 6-0 by fellow title contenders Slough Town recently, Leamington have struggled to regain form until Saturday when they helped erase the memory by putting five past Dorchester who had lost their previous four.

The Brakes were in sparkling form and took the lead in the 12th minute. Tony Breeden's free kick found the unmarked Jack Edwards on the edge of the box and he directed his header into the space behind the Magpies defence for Ahmed Obeng to slip his shot under Shane Murphy.

Murphy then was forced to turn Callum Powell's curling free kick away, but it wasn't long before Powell got his first goal for the Brakes since signing on loan from Wrexham. Obeng turned and played the ball into Powell who evaded Matt Oldring's sliding tackle before calmly firing past Murphy.

Obeng almost made it three when he turned Frankie Clarke, but his angled shot flicked off the tip of the angle of the goal frame, and then Murphy blocked Courtney Baker-Richardson's shot.

Dorchester's first real chance came when Breeden went down at Ollie Mehew's feet as he jinked along the byline and the ball rebounded to Ollie Bassett but his low cross was diverted away from the inrushing Neil Martin.

The hosts increased their advantage after 56 minutes when Baker-Richardson ran on to James Mace's pass to fire low across Murphy into the far corner. Three minutes later Mace glanced Jordan Goddard's inswinging flag kick into the far corner.

The rout was completed on 72 minutes when Nathan Walker's headed clearance fell to Robert Thompson-Brown who lashed it low past Murphy from 20 yards.

The Magpies almost grabbed a consolation when sub Ben Wood charged down a clearance on the halfway line for a run on goal, but Breeden got down to block his shot.

Brakes boss Paul Holleran said afterwards that the first 45 minutes was as good as his side had played for a long time.

Whilst that may be so, it is no consolation to Laird who has to turn things round now quickly and Saturday's home fixture against Dunstable Town (3pm ko) looks like a must-win situation.

Brockenhurst 0 Portland Utd 3

Sydenhams Wessex Premier

PORTLAND United kept the pressure on the top two in the Sydenham Wessex Premier League when they produced another excellent result in beating Brockenhurst at Grigg Lane on Saturday with Ryan McKechnie bagging a hat trick.

A heavy pitch made it difficult to play flowing football but Portland opened the scoring inside two minutes when Alex Godfrey's cross found McKechnie whose shot took a wicked deflection off a defender to wrong foot keeper Dan Maher.

Four minutes later they doubled their advantage when Ross Doidge's ball forward stuck in the mud as Maher came to collect, and McKechnie took advantage to prod the ball past the stranded keeper to fire into an empty net.

Brockenhurst tried to respond, but were well off target with a couple of efforts before Jamie Beasley's lofted effort bounced off the Badgers crossbar. Five minutes later Ed Bastick who had a scintillating first half down the right side weaved his way forward before releasing Godfrey, but the striker fired over the angle of the goal frame.

The Blues sealed the victory with a third on 39 minutes when Max Buckley and Doidge combined to give Bastick a run at goal.

The pass was cut out by a defender who slipped in the mud as he retrieved the ball allowing Bastick to feed McKechnie on the edge of the box. His run took him past a defender before firing high into the roof of the net.

Portland keeper Jordan Mullis was called into action just before the break when a mazy run along the left byline gave Matt Vokes a chance but Mullis was quick to react and blocked his effort with his legs.

Bastick completed a good personal half by almost adding a fourth. He ghosted in to meet Chris Clarke's left wing cross, but his header brought an acrobatic save from Maher to turn the ball over the bar.

The second half saw more Portland pressure and both Godfrey and Beasley went close.

Although Mullis was rarely troubled he brilliantly got down to Noel McCarthy-Gardner's angled shot to tip it onto the base of the post.

Godfrey who worked like a Trojan up front was unlucky not to find the scoresheet, had two final efforts but one hit the near post side netting and the other went wide.

Assistant manager Mark Carter said: "It was an excellent team performance and I thought we were far superior in what were very heavy conditions. They followed our instructions to a tee and totally dominated the game."

Carter had sympathy for Godfrey who was leading the line with Lewis Clarke out with a groin injury. The midfielder was given scoring chances but it wasn't his day.

"I did feel sorry for Alex as he worked so hard up front. His movement and hold-up play was superb, but he didn't have a finish in him which was disappointing."

The Blues are in action again tonight (Wednesday ko 7.45pm) when they entertain TEAM SOLENT who are currently sixth.

DORSET PREMIER

Puddletown surge to victory in Askers derby

Puddletown 36 Bridport 8

WITH the supporters freezing on the sideline, the home side turned up the temperature on the pitch with a thoroughly convincing performance sending high flying Bridport back over Askers to nurse their wounds.

Puddletown set about the first 20 minutes in a determined fashion with the early pressure resulting in Sam Pomeroy opening the scoring with a well taken unconverted try down the left wing.

More could have followed in the opening exchanges before Bridport settled and capitalised on some Puddletown handling errors to force a converted penalty in front of the posts.

With possession and territory mainly with the Villagers another score seem inevitable with blindsided flanker Ryan Snook cutting through the centres and diving over to score.

Both sides, following injuries, had forced personnel and position changes. Puddletown skipper Jez Beale - stepping back into comfortable shoes at front row - took advantage off a well-drilled rolling maul from a 10m line out to spin out of several tackles to score under the posts, converted by Tom Yeatman.

With score at 17-3 at half time the hosts stuck to their task straight from the whistle, Sam Cload passing the ball out of the tackle giving Pomeroy a long run in handing off two would be tacklers to score his second try under the posts. Yeatman again add the extras.

The visitors were not lying down, eventually breaking down Puddletown's resolute defence, spotting a gap in the centres the opportunity was taken to score an unconverted try.

The last quarter saw Puddletown extend their lead with two tries; the first from a typical scrum half jinking run, and the second after good defensive work on their own line forced Bridport back.

A perfect box kick then resulted in a turnover, Puddletown regained possession for James House to show the defence a clean pair of heels for the concluding unconverted try.

SALISBURY 2ND 20

WEYMOUTH & PORTLAND 24
WEYMOUTH & Portland manager Vaughan Carter was surprised but delighted with his team's victory over third placed Salisbury on Saturday.

Carter Said: "To be honest I didn't really expect to return with a win. I was confident we would perform well after winning at Bournemouth last week, but I thought a victory away against a team higher in the league was beyond us. However, for the second week in a row the lads proved me wrong."

"The game was nip and tuck from the kick off. They scored first but we managed to get our noses in front before they came back at us.

"We then enjoyed a purple patch midway through the second half to lead 24-13 and, despite Salisbury scoring another try, we had enough resolve to run down the clock until the final whistle."

Seasiders' centre Bryn Llewellyn grabbed their first try and then slotted the conversion himself, closely followed by a try from number 8 Dan Bowditch.

Full back Chris Lewendon was next to touchdown for Weymouth & Portland with Llewellyn adding the extras, before centre Jonny Young extended their lead with a touchdown that went unconverted.

Salisbury responding with a try of their own but the Seasiders held on for victory to consolidate fifth spot.

Carter added: "I had a few words with our wing three quarter JT Moncher before the game.

"He has only been playing rugby for a couple of years and is still learning, so I told him that when we are attacking he can come in off his wing and go looking for the ball and that's just what he did.

"He's a great runner and after a couple of forays the Salisbury defenders had to keep an eye on him which created more space for the rest of our backs to run into. Loose forward Sean Murphy also had a fine game."

Martinstown secure title

THE West Dorset Indoor Cricket League's under 14s section reached a thrilling climax as the season drew to a close at The Osprey Leisure Centre with Martinstown and Bere Regis, both facing a rapidly improving Weymouth Ladies, and both in with a shout of League honours.

Martinstown 139-1 beat

Weymouth Ladies 53 all out by 86 runs

BATTING first, Martinstown began well with openers David Lewis (28*) and Ed Maltby (26*) plundering 58 off the first five overs.

But the Ladies never gave up and their ever-improving attack, backed up by some superb fielding, slowed the run rate and resulted in the excellent run out of Damien Lewis for 7.

With both Will Maltby (25*) and Harry Mitchell (10 *) scoring at a good run rate, Martinstown finished their 12 overs with a respectable 139-1.

The Ladies began well with 16 from the first two overs. Danielle Srittle (18), in particular, displayed the rapid rise in the standard of the ladies' batting with some fine shots.

However, a well-drilled Martinstown found their rhythm and, with Alison Lloyd departing to a run out, the innings slowed. The Maltby siblings, Will (2-0-8-2) and Ed (2-4-0-10-2) bowled superbly and when David Lewis (3-0-14-1) took the final wicket Martinstown ran out comfortable winners.

Bere Regis 158-3 beat

Weymouth Ladies 108-3 by 50 runs

BERE, batting first knew that only victory would do if their were to challenge Martinstown for the title and they began well with Tom Munnings (25*) and Harry Green (28*) racking up 78 from the first five overs.

The Ladies battled well in the field and another excellent display resulted in three run outs as they continued to display the huge strides they have made in all aspects of the game.

Bere's batsman continued to punish anything short as Oliver Mayo (26*) and Matt Hobbs (20*) saw them post a challenging 158.

The Ladies fought back well, and gutsy innings of 23 from Danielle Srittle (23) and Captain Jo Hayson's unbeaten 28 caused Bere a few worries as they kept plugging away at the target.

But the Bere attack gave little away and, despite another determined innings from Alison Lloyd (19*) the Ladies fell short.

With both Martinstown and Bere finishing with the same win/lose record it was down to number crunching time to decide the destiny of the League Trophy with Martinstown coming out on top by virtue of a far better run rate.

The indoor season concludes with the Cup Competitions. The under 16s take place on and the Under 14s on Saturday, March 4th with the opening games in both competitions starting at 10am.

Dogged Bees earn a point

Bridport Res 2 Mere Town 2

Dorset premier League

WHILST disappointed that his chances didn't take all three points against Mere Town on Saturday, Bridport manager Shaun Annetts felt that his side had done enough to have won, but at the same time they could have done better.

On a heavy pitch that was starting to dry out, the surface was very stodgy and particularly lofted balls tended to stick in the mud making it awkward for flowing football.

With no recognised keeper available, assistant manager Simon Gale once again donned the gloves.

Having not played for two weeks the Bees were a little rusty but after an even start they took the lead after 10 minutes when the Mere keeper's poor clearance eventually found Ali Kamara who unleashed an early shot that nestled in the top corner of the net.

Having taken the lead, Bridport failed to capitalise, and entered a 20 minute spell littered with poor passing and the conceding numerous free kicks.

This invited pressure and they conceded on the half hour.

This seemed to jolt the hosts back into gear as they adjusted to the conditions and they regained the lead before the break with a second Kamara goal.

After an even start to the second half, Mere got the equaliser when the Bees failed to clear their lines.

The Bees were guilty of creating the better chances but failing to finish them. Sam Handyside drove through the heart of the Mere defence, but instead of shooting played in Hull whose angled shot hit the side netting.

Josh Hunter also had a chance with a header but couldn't generate enough power to make it count.

There was only one real scare for the Bees defence when Dan Peart misjudged a dropping ball allowing a Mere forward a clear run on goal. However he was stopped in his tracks by a fabulous tackle by the recovering Nathan Storey.

Annetts said: "We didn't play as well as we can. Whilst the ground might have had a bearing, our passing wasn't as good as it could be."

"However, in the last 20 minutes we created enough chances to have won it, although on reflection a draw wasn't a bad result."

Schools Sport

Woodroffe in county under 15 finals

WOODROFFE School girls recently played some sparkling cricket to reach the County Indoor cricket finals at a West Dorset tournament held at The Wey Valley School.

The Year 10 team fielded first against the Wey Valley and although they failed to take a wicket they restricted the hosts to just 40. They then went onto score 135 and win by 95 runs.

Not to be outdone, the year nine team also defeated Wey Valley by 177 runs. Maisie McCarthy top scored with 31 including four sixes.

The deciding match between the two Woodroffe sides was a nailbiting affair.

Opting to bat first, the year 10s reached 84 for 4 runs mainly to a lively 28 from Katie Henderson who was well supported by Freya Southcott (11).

However, the year nines were sharp in the field which was epitomised by the fielding of Rose Trafford who engineered three run outs.

Millie Vacher bowled quickly and took the other wicket to fall wicket as the 10s were dismissed for 84.

Needing 10.5 an over, the year nine team got off to a bad start when captain Frankie Steed was caught and bowled by Henderson.

But Emily Wright (15) and Maisie McCarthy (17) came together and accelerated the scoring. But, with the score on 75, captain Clara Jeavons bowled a tight over and, with the pressure mounting two run outs halted the year nine flow.

Henderson bowled a fine last over restricting the final score to 80 and clinching victory and the District Championship title by just four runs.

The team are now through to the County Finals to be played at Hurn

Captain shows the way

THE Ladies played their 16-hole February Stableford using a new layout and there were some excellent scores.

Captain Gilly Madill scored consistently well to rack up 36 points and win Division One by two points from Felicity Poole in second and Rosemary Shepherd in third with 34 points.

Division Two was a close contest as two in-form players went head-to-head, both scoring four points better than their handicap. Corinne Jones and Amy Mudford both scored 36 points, with the former winning but on count-back. Ronny Turner secured bronze with 34 points.

The Seniors' February Stableford was played in near Arctic conditions on the reserve day.

Taking advantage of the reduced field, Richard Jackman came first in Division One with 32 points, one better than Simon Prior and Neil Leggett who came second and third respectively.

Division Two was where the high scoring occurred as Rob Laverton played brilliantly with the highest score of the day - 38 points.

John Jones made it a good family week as his 36 points secured second spot from David Hickman in third.

West Dorset Hawks 1 Camborne School of Mines 4

WHEN 15 youthful university students from The Camborne School of Mines arrived West Dorset knew they were up against it.

However, things couldn't have started better for hosts when a beautiful ball from Rick Dormor stuck to Dan Wyatt's stick in the D and he smashed it into the goal.

Wyatt went close soon after but fired narrowly wide.

But Camborne rallied and soon took control. Their fitness, speed and determination put Dorset under constant pressure and they soon scored twice to take the lead.

In the second half saw West Dorset put together some good passages of play but failed to score. Camborne capitalised on this and they soon turned to attack and added another couple of goals.

In the last quarter West Dorset's spirits were raised by the introduction of Alex Davis on as striker. His fresh legs, added to determination from the Hawks saw them come close but unfortunately it was all too late.

second half saw the Hawks on the back foot briefly, allowing the hosts space and some half chances.

Reverting back to the tactics of the first half steadied the ship, and the second goal came from Middleton, who did well to score from a difficult angle.

Chard got back into the game following a harshly awarded short corner; the first time shot finding its way past unsighted keeper Alex Drew.

There was a little flurry from the hosts towards the final whistle, but the Hawks were able to see out the match for three points.

The Hawks travel to league leaders Tiverton on Saturday.

FOLLOWING the disappointment of last week, West Dorset A welcomed back a number of players for their tough trip to Chard B, and recorded their first away win of the year.

Goals either side of half time were just reward for the constant attacking threat posed by the Hawks.

The midfield pairing of Rob Clark and Ollie Gargrave controlled the middle third effectively and provided good service to the front pairing of John Kellas and Henry Middleton.

The heroics of the home keeper kept the Hawks at bay until Clarke was able to open the scoring after great link up play from Gargrave and Ed Calvert.

Howzat! Dave's 37 land Stableford win

FIFTEEN three-man teams of veterans took part in last Thursday's Texas Scramble off the yellow tees, four drives taken off each player and one/10th of combined handicap.

Apart from the cold, conditions were good and the winning scores were very close. Top of the pile was the team of Peter Marshall (8), Chris Everest (24) & James Clarke (25) scoring 66.3.

In second were George Brown (12), Dave Rendell (18) & Chris Roberts (21) with 66.8 while Marcus Beresford (15), Kevin Blackman (21) & Dave Smith (23) scoring secured third spot with 67.1.

It was a very cold morning for the Men's Sunday competition which was a Rediffusion 3BBB Stableford.

Seventeen trios donned their thermals and woollies and some recorded some very good scores.

The winning team with 51 points was that of Grant Gerrard (11), Don McAllister (19) & Kieran McAllister (21).

In second were Lewis Craddock (6), Pat Hart (9) & Brian Austin (21) with 50. Third were Derek Christison (24), Jon Legg-Bagg (13) & Mike Thompson (17) scoring 47.

Fourteen players entered the mixed Midweek Stableford, and all bar one scored over 30 points.

The winner with 37 points was Dave Howat (17). Andy Dennis (6) took the runner-up spot with 36 and Bryn Dare (15) was third with 34 after count-back.

The Ladies recently played a flag competition over 11 holes across two days.

The winner who placed the flag in the 11th hole was Roseanne Bonfield. The runner up was Avril Brown who had her handicap reduced by two shots.

Saturday a mixed Valentines 4BBB reduced to nine-holes due to the chill and snow flurries.

Monies raised were not only for the lucky prize winners but also for Woofability the charity chosen by both the Club Captain and the Ladies Captain.

Woofability trains dogs to assist people with physical difficulties and also to be a safe companion for children and adults.

The winners, with 24 points on count back, were Avril Brown & Mike Thompson.

In second, again with 24 points, were Wendy Newton & Mike Savage and the final pair with in the prizes, again on count back, were Carolyn McAllister & Rob Smith.

Pat Tolin and George Brown both carded two and won some golf balls.

Away day woes as Bridport ship six

Puddletown 36 Bridport 8

BRIDPORT travelled to Puddletown on Saturday with great expectations but a depleted side due to injuries and half term holidays, left them light in the backs writes Guy Livingston.

Puddletown scored an early try and were able to put in some quick balls out to their backs from the breakdowns and poor defence in the visitors' backs allowed them to easily run in six tries.

Bridport did have their moments with some excellent play from Daragh McLoughlin and some solid runs from Nathan Herbert who managed to put on three points on the board when he went over for a converted try.

Following the successful season that Bridport have had so far, the team were disappointed in the result, and hope to turn this around when they welcome Effingham & Ringwood on Saturday.

Also for rugby supporters, a reminder that all the six nations games on a Saturday are being shown in the Club house.

Honiton U13 5 Bridport 6

TWO well-matched teams put on a good show on a bitterly cold morning writes Noel Gregory.

Aided by the slope in the first half Honiton broke away to score after early pressure from Bridport had come to nothing.

With set scrums again being won against the head by Bridport's Captain Henry Mason, an open side move allowed Oliver Hansford-Harvey to score.

Two more tries were scored by Honiton after some slack tackling by the Blues, to give the hosts a 3-1 half time lead.

Downhill, Bridport fed the ball out well to the backs, and equalised, then went ahead with three tries by Hansford-Harvey.

Honiton equalised with another breakaway try, but then a quick penalty try by Ernest Chaney put Thomas Craven over to put Bridport back in front.

Back came Honiton to equalise again, but George Found powered through to restore Bridport's lead at 6-5.

There then followed a period of non-stop pressure on Bridport's line, but the Blues defended magnificently to hold on to their slender lead.

Home and away victories over a good Honiton team shows Bridport are progressing, but tackling and scrummaging must be worked on if they are to compete against the might of Taunton on March 5th.

INSIDE: Comprehensive local sport round-up

Bowles returns to bolster Magpies defence

WITH Dorchester Town having suffered their fifth successive defeat, and still without a win since he took control at the beginning of the year, new boss Craig Laird has added more new faces to his squad.

Saturday's defeat might well have been expected with Leamington vying to finish champions of the Evo-Stik South Premier Division, but it would appear that the Brakes were wounded having been beaten 6-0 by promotion rivals Slough Town recently and produced their best performance for some time.

Their boss Paul Holleran said afterwards that the first 45 minutes was as good as his side had played for a long time.

But this it is no consolation to Laird, who now has to turn things round quickly.

by Stuart Broom
broom2006@btinternet.com

With three of the five sides below them winning, the gap has closed to four points with only Cinderford Town really cut adrift.

Saturday's team included five new faces. Jordan Williams and Lewis Powell both on loan from Weston-super-Mare, John Vance from Gillingham Town, Ollie Griggs on loan from Eastleigh, and Oliver Mehew who joined the Magpies last Friday on a month's loan from Forest Green. The 19-year-old is the son of former Bristol Rovers player David Mehew.

Laird, recognising the need to boost his squad numbers as well as adding some more experience, has also signed Blackfield & Langley's former Terras midfielder Luke Winsper on dual registration forms as cover, and defender Gary Bowles.

The former Cherries and Glovers defender, who is no stranger to The Avenue having played for Dorchester in four other spells, returns again to bolster an under pressure Magpies defence.

With Chris Dillon no longer available for the rest of this season as he recovers from a groin operation, and with Matt Oldring covering at right back, the lack of a recognised central defender to partner Nathan Walker was obvious on Saturday, and Laird is hoping Bowles will fit the bill.

Speaking after Saturday's defeat Laird said: "It highlighted the issues we have in some areas. It's tough when you lose a player like Chris Dillon and we also were without David Gerrard who went down with flu.

"We were just a centre back shy on Saturday particularly with the pace they had."

Laird recognises that this Saturday's home fixture against Dunstable Town is now a must-win situation.

"We have to approach it with a different mindset now. Having probably relied on the cushion of points we had which has now been eroded, we have to roll our sleeves up and grind out some results. There's no time for pretty football, it's time for hard work and win ugly if needs be.

"I also have to change the mentality of the younger players that are on loan. They have to come in and do us a shift."
